- Serve as a link between McGill Students and the Montreal Polish community to allow them to advance the before mentioned clause.

Application:

How has your club met its mandate over the course of this year?

- Serve McGill Students at large with a place to meet, share, develop and uncover more about their mutual interests in Polonia and Polish language, culture, and history.

We have met this section's goals through holding events and participating in collaborative events with other organizations to showcase our culture, language and history. We have held several successful polish movie nights, in which we watch popular polish films with English subtitles and facilitate a discussion about the movie afterwards, which also gives some people a chance to practice their polish with other members. Moreover, we advertise independent Polish language classes held by a professional teacher once a week. We have participated in an event called Cultures Collide in which we showcased our culture, history and food alongside other cultures. Moreover, recently we helped organize and participate in a European Apartment Crawl with other McGill culture clubs. We successfully tabled in Leacock for a whole day to gain signatures for a petition to help find space for the McGill Polish Institute, and heavily supported this organization throughout their process to find space; this event was featured in the McGill Tribune → PLEASE see link:

<http://www.mcgilltribune.com/news/polish-institute-canada-vacate-location-mcgill-campus-despite-petition-040416/>. Moreover, every semester we table at activities night to meet and engage new students to join our club. Most recently we organized a traditional Wigilia dinner, an important Christmas tradition in Polish culture. Lastly, we provide extensive resources and contact information of polish businesses and other groups in Montreal on our facebook page.

- Serve as a link between McGill Students and the Montreal Polish community to allow them to advance the before mentioned clause.

We serve as a link between the Montreal Polish community and McGill students by constantly engaging with both to meet common interests. We advertise for Polish Montreal businesses on our facebook page. We have assisted the Polish Institute and Library to find a space and assisted them in their moving process. They have also provided our club with space for movie nights. We have organized groups trips to popular Montreal Polish community events including: Mr. + Mrs. Polonia, Polish Folk Dance show, Polish Bazaars (Winter and Fall), Valentine's day concert with Polish Embassy, Montreal and Toronto Polish Festival trips, Wigilia at Pyza Foods.

-Serve as a link between the greater McGill community and the McGill affiliated Polish Institute of Arts and Sciences in Canada.

We have held successful movie nights at the Institute in the past, and have always promoted their events and the Institute in general during activities night and on Facebook. Moreover, our petition for the institute (earlier mentioned) garnered 750 signatures by McGill students, faculty and staff to help keep the Institute at McGill.

-To support and facilitate student life for Polish international students visiting from abroad. We help international students by providing information on polish institutions and goods available in Montreal and Canada, and of course encouraging them to participate in all our events.

-Contribute to the rich and culturally diverse environment of the greater McGill community. Many of our events (as mentioned above) are aimed at providing students access and information on the culture and polish community outside and within McGill.

-Collaborate with other SSMU groups to advance our mutual mandates

We have held multiple successful collaborative events with other SSMU groups including:

- Ukrainian and Bulgarian club joint trivia night at Gerts.

- Organized a viewing party for a soccer game with the Romanian club at Gerts.

- Participated in Cultures Collide to showcase multiple countries culture, food, music, dancing and history; a joint event with the Armenian, Ukrainian, Iranian, Lebanese clubs at McGill.

- Organized a joint apartment crawl with the Russian, Greek, Italian, French, Ukrainian, Armenian clubs at McGill.

How has your club contributed to the McGill community? What benefits do you offer to students?

We have in the past and constantly strive to provide advocacy for protection of diverse cultural institutions at McGill (ie. polish institute). Most importantly we serve as a vital link between the Polonia/Poland and McGill community. We promote the polish language through advertising private classes and practicing polish at our events. We showcase Polish culture through cinema (movie nights), literature (the institute's polish library), talks and seminars (in the works of planning for this coming February). We also hold social events to allow our members to discuss and engage with each other (outside of more formal club events) such as Gerts nights, and an apartment crawl. Moreover we encourage and organize trips to Polish Community events (eg. Polish Bazar, concerts, restaurants). Lastly, all of our events are always open and provide free access to all McGill students in order to share, engage and promote polish culture.

How have you built your membership base and how have you engaged new students?

We are constantly accepting new members, the most heavy of inflow is during activities nights in which we gather emails to use as a method of communication about upcoming events with potential and existing members. As well we hold meet and greets with the exec at the beginning of the school year. Furthermore, we have also greatly collaborated with the Polish club at Concordia to expand our member base more across Montreal. We very much have a flat structure in which the exec and non-exec help organize and attend activities and events. We have reached out to students through activities night, culture tables at different events, and announcements at polish community events (eg. at the polska fundacja) and of course through emails, and our facebook page.

What steps have you taken to make sure your club will have a smooth executive turnover when the founders graduate?

1. Recruited new members
2. Consistently engaged new and young members
3. Had younger members become executives
4. We will be electing/choosing our new president in the upcoming weeks so that they can serve as an interim president, while the current president is still at McGill to ensure the role is properly transitioned and the clubs existence is continued in years to come.

What resources has your club used during your Interim Status Period?

We have successfully used Activities Night both during the Fall and Winter semesters this past year to recruit new members and gain awareness about our club. We have set up a bank account for the club through SSMU. As well, we have created a room booking account and plan to use it during the Winter semester for upcoming events, including participation during International Week.

What steps have you taken to ensure the financial sustainability of your club?

Our club graciously received $300 from the Polska Fundacja in November, this amount was awarded to us after we submitted an application for funds that is specifically intended for clubs and organizations promoting polish culture. Many of these scholarships are offered for our type of club by the Polish community within Montreal and Canada. As well some of our events have created surplus through ticket sales, such as the Culture Collide event ($120). Lastly, we have made vital connections with sources of funding in the Montreal Polish Community including the Polish Institute for space, Pyza Foods catered our Wigilia dinner, and Wawel has donated/provided discounted rates for Paczki (polish donuts) in the past for our events and tabling.

We have not applied for SSMU funding because of a mix-up by SSMU with our finance rating. However now we hold a 5/5 finance score, which will help us become eligible for SSMU funding in the future.

1. We reviewed their constitution on November 14 and made suggestions for reorganizing their portfolio responsibilities. They don't want to make the suggested changes. Besides the suggestions, we approved the rest of the constitution. The version as it stands needs to be passed through the committee and ratified by SSMU Legislative Council.

8. McGill Students' Chess Club

We reviewed their constitution in November and tabled it due to questions about an Executive position, SSMU Representative. The rest of the constitution was approved. It was explained that this position was created "to have a designated member to interact with SSMU for bookings and meetings, (ex McGill Open) and update [the club] about policies." The following changes have been proposed for clarity of different responsibilities.

1. SSMU Representative's portfolio:
 - a. Addition of 6.8.2 "Be responsible for bookings made with the Students' Society of McGill University".
2. VP Internal's portfolio:
 - a. 6.3.1 changed to "Be responsible for communication within the EC and with members of the club."
 - b. 6.3.3 changed to "Oversee and coordinate the organization of club meetings, including the transportation of club equipment when necessary."
3. Removal of 10.3.4, which required candidates for election to have previous experience in their role. It was removed due to being vague.
