Council updates

- The jazz equity committee has put out a survey to see how students feel about the way they're treated within the faculty as well as observe their opinions on other pertinent jazz faculty issues.

General updates

- Samosa sales have started, but we have not become profitable yet. Things have picked up since we started advertising the sales on Facebook, though.
- We will be hosting a Spring Formal on Friday March 15th at Le Cinq.
- An area of the music building is currently being considered to be renovated into a lounge.
- We recently hosted a wine and cheese night for first year students.

Budget updates

- Nothing to report.
