SSMU LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL QUESTIONS

April 18, 2024

Questions from Constituent

1. The SSMU has announced that the University Centre and SSMU Office will be closed, services will be reduced and there will be delays in inquiries. Will the Executive committee elaborate on the changes that have been implemented by sending out a mass email to all students to ensure transparency?
2. The VP finance has said that the 2023-2024 budget accounts for a $723,000 deficit, whereas the following year's budget accounts for a $460,000 deficit. What will actually be reduced during this time?
3. Kudrati-Plummer explained that 92 per cent of next year's proposed budget will go toward salaries, and the remaining 8 per cent accounts for other fees and costs. Did the executives take any pay cuts to attempt to keep SSMU open?
4. The McGill Daily and Tribune reached a settlement with SSMU's ex-president Daryanani during the same time as SSMU made the announcement for the interruption in student services. Has the SSMU settled with Daryanani, or is the SSMU still defending the lawsuit?
5. When will the Policy Against Genocide in Palestine be ratified?
