Background

Plebiscite questions are non-binding questions that are used to acquire the opinion of SSMU members. Historically, they often run alongside the ballot of Fall and Winter referenda. According to the Internal Regulations of Elections and Referenda, Legislative Council shall approve semesterly by the end of the Nomination Period for Referendum questions a list of no more than ten (10) single-part questions on which students will be asked to voice their opinion at the bottom of the Elections ballot.

For the Fall 2025 Referendum, there was 1 plebiscite question, introduced via a floor motion by Vice President Abu Alakir at the Legislative Council on October 9th, 2025. The question reads: “What event would you like to see on campus?” and was an open ended question.

The voter turnout for the Fall 2025 Referendum was 19.1%, which 4829 SSMU members voted (out of 25332 eligible members). Out of the people who voted, 541 members elected to submit a response for the plebiscite question. 21 responses had no events to propose, with responses such as: “Idk” (Response 182), “Not sure” (Response 337), “Nothing really” (Response 399), “Rien en particulier” (Response 370), “ummm no clue” (Response 534).

Rationale & Methodology

The report aims to summarize overarching themes submitted by the members, in order to help SSMU see what the students want. The list of responses was exported from SimplyVoting by Elections SSMU, then a quick first pass of the responses were done. Afterwards, common themes/tags are assigned for each response, which is the basis of completing this report.

It is to be noted that the response submission is anonymous. It is not associated with any data (no timestamp, no faculty, not associated with other votes), and that SSMU members should not hesitate to provide their opinion in these questions.

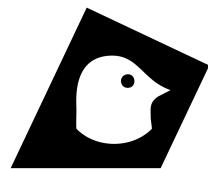

The responses are numbered from 1 to 541 according to the order SimplyVoting presented it in, which was alphabetically. The sequence does not identify the individual, and is not ordered by time of submission.

- “Mature and returning student new resource orientation and networking with peers. As a returning (now “mature”) student after a 7 year break from academia I've had a very hard time navigating resources and have been feeling like an island. Services have changed names, OSD to SAA, there are new services (the Hub) and more that I'm sure I am not utilizing to their potential or am unaware of or too later to sign up for (peer mentoring as a mentee). I feel like returning students don't fit the demographic of frosh, nor do their interests align. I am sure my specific case is seen as exceptional circumstances, but even older exchange students, or other mature students returning

Free Things and Events

It is clear many students do not wish to spend more money on events, and are attracted to events that have free things or do not require any spending. For responses involving free food, see “Food” section.

Free things

The pop-up booths by different companies were very popular among students, and were referenced several times in their responses about something they like to see more.

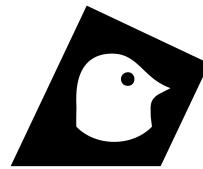

- “Free stuff” (Response 149)
- “more give outs” (Response 494)
- “Beauty pop up shops” (Response 42)
- “Big brands kiosk” (Response 46)
- “Booths from big companies again (Sephora, the ordinary)” (Response 54)
- “Brands giving free items like for example the ordinary thing and more” (Response 55)
- “I would love to see more popups being held on lower field to check out in between classes!” (Response 178)
- “More events with big brands like Aveeno and Sephora, more promotion of these events with affiliated student societies” (Response 258)
- “More pop ups” (Response 290)
- “More pop ups by brands” (Response 291)
- “Red Bull” (Response 365)
- “more pop ups like the sephora and ordinary one, more activities oriented to all students, (the OAP isn’t very muslim friendly : ()” (Response 502)

General Feedback

Some feedback provided was more general, and will be placed in this section.

The need to increase or decrease events on campus

- Increase
 - “We need more activities involving the SSMU building! Poster sales (like in September), contests or raffles, and Gerts-related events would all be fantastic!” (Response 421)
 - “Nothing specific, just more fun activities I can do with friends to have a more engaging campus life.” (Response 340)
 - “More main campus social functions - no specific causes or clubs - just for the sake of the student body actually getting together” (Response 281)
 - “More events, number of events is very low and the provided events are insignificant.” (Response 259)
- Decrease
 - “I would like to see no events as they cost me money” (Response 174)
 - “None, we need to force students to study more and not go to random social events because they are here at university to study.” (Response 334)
 - “None. Have less events and charge less in opt-outable fees since the funding will not be needed.” (Response 335)

Feedback about SSMU

- Some members used the box to voice concerns of certain aspects of SSMU's functioning
 - "SSMU should fund SSMU clubs again." (Response 374)
 - "I'd like to see SSMU doing even the bare minimum to pressure the BoG on the students' behalf against the new proposed code of conduct that is said to be stupidly authoritarian" (Response 180)
- Others mentioned their frustration with the SSMU in general
 - "Shut down the student union" (Response 377)
 - "The abolition of SSMU" (Response 403)
 - "The impeachment of dymetrei taylor ;- jk" (Response 404)
 - "An event where we egg the president for his performance" (Response 24)

Concerns about referendum questions

- "This isn't an event but I would like to see an increase in accessible transportation to and from campus for students with physical disabilities. As it currently stands, the shuttle system is insufficient and unsafe and severely limits students from accessing their classes and other activities on campus, causing isolation and making it even harder for students in difficult situations to succeed in their classes. I hope the Access McGill Ancillary fee takes this into account." (Response 410)
- "I dislike the way the motions are worded, which unnecessarily lead the voter towards a specific option" (Response 166)
- "your GAC motion is factually incorrect: the existing health insurance SSMU has does not cover GAC at all (not insufficiently), because y'all cancelled it" (Response 540)
- 2 responses (Response 25 and 179) directly opposed the Gender Affirming Care Fee question.
- "Allocate ALL of the funding difference from the Motion to Increase the Student Services Fee to the Student Wellness Hub; its current capacity for appointments and state of being booked out by 8:45 AM every day is atrocious, ridiculous, and dangerous. Currently, as most students can never succeed in booking an appointment, choose to not see any doctor at all, as private clinics are too expensive." (Response 21)

Concerns about spending more money on certain fees

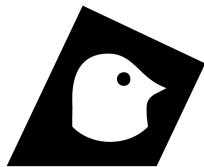

- "I would for a majority of the fees to opt-outable like MSA fee, and so on since the prices are rising, recession is on its ways and the tuition is way too high for me pay to alll those associations fees to be reasonable when I dont even benefits in anyway nor indirectly nor see the benefits for my peers who would technically benefit from such associations even then it should be opt-outable" (Response 171)

- "More non-opt in fee removals" (Response 284)
- "SSMU has enough money to carry out its activities, why are we still trying to charge more to the students?" (Response 372)
- "Stop stealing our money. This is a disgrace" (Response 395)
- "Less additional fees for people who are not involved" (Response 202)

Recommendations from Elections SSMU

Increase diversity of events

While many of SSMU's current events (e.g. Midnight on McTavish) is well-liked and should be continued, the SSMU also needs to keep in mind the high demand for other students captured in the plebiscite data, such as - plays, art contests, movie nights, book clubs, trivia, scavenger hunts, and board game nights. By offering a broader calendar of activities, the SSMU can ensure students who do not engage with high-alcohol, high-energy functions still have the opportunity to participate in campus life, and be more aware of SSMU and its resources.

Consider SSMU members come from various backgrounds

There are more than 25,000 SSMU members across many faculties and programs, ranging from Montréal to Gatineau. Due to this, SSMU needs to make sure all demographics are considered for events, and that no students should feel left out. Some overlooked demographics mentioned in the survey include mature students, graduating students, commuting students, and non-traditional students.

Promote inclusivity and social cohesion

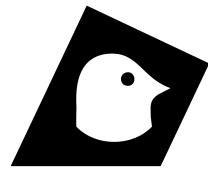

Effective community building requires creating spaces where all students feel genuinely welcomed, regardless of their social preferences, physical abilities, or background. In the survey many took the opportunity to express wanting to meet students outside their program/faculty. As the student union for undergraduate students, SSMU has the unique position to create interfaculty or even interuniversity events, something faculty student associations have less of a chance to do.

The SSMU should also consider consulting with groups on campus such as LGBTQ+, BIPOC, and various cultural/religious groups to ensure events are inclusive and these groups feel included. At the same time, the SSMU should promote social cohesion - ensuring different groups of students on campus can have a chance to meet and have healthy discussions; no matter ethnicity, political beliefs, and religion.

Consider basic needs of students

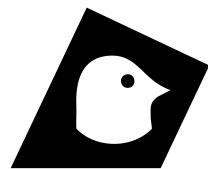

The overwhelming response of free food and free events recognizes that many students are financially conscious, and SSMU needs to recognize this, in times of inflation and food insecurity. There are also concerns from members that money is not always well spent at SSMU. In general, the SSMU should strive to eliminate additional fees wherever possible, ensuring maximum participation, and is not limited by a students' ability to pay.

117	Events with professional artists, as done in other universities of the city
118	Fac-O!
119	Faculty scavenger hunt (competition between faculties)
120	Fair Day
121	Farmers market and more company collabs !! But give us more notice when the companies are on campus :)
122	Filling out a survey and finding your match
123	Finals support (e.g hot chocolate)
124	First year events for arts faculty
125	First-year social events
126	Food
127	Food donation for students in need.
128	Food drive
129	Food events (multicultural week)
130	Food festival
131	Food festivals
132	Food festivals, book fairs, local band concerts, American Thanksgiving dinner
133	Food related
134	Food related events, like potlucks, food-themed events, which would allow to network/create new bonds through food!
135	Food-related events
136	Formals or Dances
137	Free Events
138	Free Food, Concerts
139	Free drop-in studio sessions
140	Free events that promote connection and learning, like workshops on practical skills, cultural exchange nights, well-being fairs, and seasonal outdoor activities.
141	Free food
142	Free food
143	Free food
144	Free food events

148	Free snacks and food fairs
149	Free stuff
150	French language learning opportunities
151	Fun ones
152	Fundraisers for Palestine and Sudan.
153	Giant scavenger hunt
154	Gingerbread house decorating, christmas carols, holidays-themed ball
155	Gourmet PB&J Sandwich Awareness ☺
156	HOCO
157	Halal food fest
158	Halloween party
159	Halloween/End of midterms events and a Christmas/End of finals events
160	Help for graduate studies and applications
161	Holiday
162	Holiday market
163	Hot Dog Wars (Im talking Food Trucks)
164	How about more focus on helping students who are experiencing food insecurity? No one needs another party when some students are struggling to feed themselves. You need to get your priorities straight.
165	I am particularly fond of MUSCO. Their events and overall initiative are great, so keep it up!
166	I dislike the way the motions are worded, which unnecessarily lead the voter towards a specific option
167	I like to see the most seasonal events, for example, relating to holidays like Halloween during autumn.
168	I love McGill
169	I love Nightmare on McTavish, have you guys ever considered Fright Before Christmas too?
170	I love the McGill athletics events that have been set up on the lower field, like the volleyball net and the inflatable soccer field. I would love to see the volleyball net, spike ball net, and soccer balls become a permanent fixture on the lower field during the warm weather months. It would provide a nice way for students to take advantage of the nice weather while they can and foster connection. I also think more fun socials that aren't formal networking events would be fun, like board game nights or movie nights open to anyone who wants to come, or at a faculty level. Thank you!
171	I would for a majority of the fees to opt-outable like MSA fee, and so on since the prices are rising, recession is on its ways and the tuition is way too high for me pay to all those associations fees to be reasonable when I don't even benefit in anyway nor indirectly nor see the benefits for my peers who would technically benefit from such associations even then it should be opt-outable

172	I would like Midnight Kitchen to come back.
173	I would like to see an event where music majors and arts majors connect.
174	I would like to see no events as they cost me money.
175	I would like to see some food sale events, sport events or some orientation events to meet some other students in your departments or from other departments.
176	I would like to see the reinstatement of the Midnight Kitchen. I find the decision to replace it and redirect the students' fees without allowing the students to vote on it in this referendum underhanded and deceptive.
177	I would love to see more music events like OAP, that can also bring in friends from outside or other universities. An indoor music event would also be cool in the winter, like an igloo fest spin off.
178	I would love to see more popups being held on lower field to check out in between classes!
179	I would strongly prefer if we dont go ahead with the Creation of the Gender Affirming Care Fee.
180	I'd like to see SSMU doing even the bare minimum to pressure the BoG on the students' behalf against the new proposed code of conduct that is said to be stupidly authoritarian
181	I'd like to see more interfaculty events
182	Idk
183	Idk
184	Im fine
185	Integration events on campus for students doing double degrees, exchanges, and new programs with other universities even if they are not first years.
186	Inter-departmental events
187	Interfaith dialogue promotion
188	International food and cultural fairs, LGBTQ+ awareness events, student musical performances
189	Internships and Lab opportunities with profs, professionals, and big companies (not only for business and tech, but also for science and â€œpre-medicineâ€ students)
190	Invite conservative speakers
191	Invite politicians from all major parties to give talks
192	Invite speaker that have different opinions than yours (and stop cancelling them), that's real diversity (not the performative type that is so dominant these days).
193	Italian fair
194	Italian pride events
195	Jam sessions for jazz musicians (who aren't in the school of music).
196	Jewish ones
197	Jewish student events

198	Job opportunities/Research
199	Just follow what the UBC â€˜s student union does
200	Keep the farmerâ€™s market on Thursdayâ€™sd going, and I appreciate the events you have put forth so far (more events like nightmare on mctavish)
201	Kosher food
202	Less aditional fees for people who are not involved
203	Less antisemitism and pro-palestine protests
204	Less meaningless events. Quality courses and better campus infrastructures.
205	Less third party security guards, a waste of money and makes the campus feel hostile
206	Liar games-esque events
207	Life skills workshops, may be useful for first years
208	Line dancing events
209	Living alone in apartment workshops
210	MIDKNIGHT KITCHEN
211	MIDNIGHT KITCHEN! This was one of the best things going for food security at McGill; our other options are unaffordable and of much lower quality.
212	MSA event
213	MUSCO
214	MUSIC
215	Marathons
216	Masters studies fairs and guidance for applications
217	Match-making event / singles event / blind dates on valentines day for fun :p
218	Mature and returning student new resource orientation and networking with peers. As a returning (now "mature") student after a 7 year break from academia I've had a very hard time navigating resources and have been feeling like an island. Services have changed names, OSD to SAA, there are new services (the Hub) and more that I'm sure I am not utilizing to their potential or am unaware of or too later to sign up for (peer mentoring as a mentee). I feel like returning students don't fit the demographic of frosh, nor do their interests align. I am sure my specific case is seen as exceptional circumstances, but even older exchange students, or other mature students returning to study after time away working, who may not be attending McGill for the standard 4+ years would benefit from specific orientation and networking.
219	McGill Igloo Fest
220	McGill breaking another world record; last one they did was the world's largest smoothie in 2015.

223	Mental Health Art Contest (drawings, writing), Exhibition
224	Midnight Kitchen
225	Midnight's kitchen
226	Mini games with a bbq
227	More MUSCO support!
228	More OAP like events
229	More about arts and music
230	More affordable classes at the McGill gym!
231	More affordable social events that brings student together
232	More animal therapy
233	More animals pleaseâ˜oï,
234	More artistic performances and dramas by students.
235	More asl classes
236	More bigger interfaculty events. Networking between students not only professors or professionals (but also them obviously)
237	More black history events and truth and reconciliation events.
238	More career development opportunities
239	More career fairs.
240	More competitions in lower field
241	More competitions or opportunities to work towards an achievable goal while working with fellow students
242	More coordinated events between faculties or maybe collaborative events between different faiths, such as interfaith dialogue events.
243	More cultural events
244	More dance parties
245	More destress activities like those offered during finals period, maybe offered also during midterm season?
246	More dialogue oriented spaces & BRING BACK MIDNIGHT KITCHEN !!!!!!
247	More drinking

282	More money for SSMU clubs, (my club really isn't being funded anymore) and more campus-wide community building events to increase school spirit. A more dedicated students' centre.
283	More music shows!
284	More non-opt in fee removals
285	More opportunities for queer and trans students to have access to community and care
286	More options for food, since food is a really high priority and a big issue.
287	More parties
288	More pickup volleyball
289	More pop up like the ordinary, more bake sales and cheaper lattes
290	More pop ups

421	We need more activities involving the SSMU building! Poster sales (like in September), contests or raffles, and Gerts-related events would all be fantastic!
422	We should do events in tandem with the other Montréal universities (UdeM, Concordia & UQAM). It could be really cool to interact more with their students. I think it would also help a lot of people that are not from Montréal to actually explore the rest of the city instead of staying downtown.
423	When it comes back, PLEASE keep the lunch service meals vegan and nut-free!! (Not vegan, but I will absolutely not support a fee increase to eat cheap chicken over high-quality chickpeas, for example)
424	Winter outdoors concert

512	no preference
513	no protests for either side of wars that aren't on canadian soil
514	none
515	not sure
516	outdoors music performance
517	parades
518	practical living skills workshop/s (with attention to sensory needs and accommodations about stuff like eating, doing chores and homework, etc.) i would pay to see amanda stuckey dodson, social worker & life skills coach, speak (https://www.nestingyourlife.com) -- i really benefited from her episode on the podcast "struggle care" (https://www.strugglecare.com/podcast-rss/25) and i feel like other overwhelmed uni students could benefit from exposure to something similar.
519	pro-palestine events <3
520	pro-palestinian events, keynotes⇒discussion panels on local and international issues
521	promote gerts more
522	queer + trans
