Issue

The plebiscite question will ask the student body on what they would like to see happening on campus and we are seeking feedback and opinions to further strengthen our services.

Background and Rationale

The fall referendum provides an opportunity to solicit feedback and opinion from the student body. Student leaders often do not have the data or backing for their ideas of what the student population wants. Therefore, this is the best way to get feedback directly from the whole student population. Their feedback will be anonymous, so there's no pressure when answering and offering constructive criticism.
